PURPOSE1.1 Purpose

The purpose of this Act is to provide for the regulation of property rights in Prince Edward Island, especially the amount of land that may be held by a person or corporation. This Act has been enacted in the recognition that Prince Edward Island faces singular challenges with regard to property rights as a result of several circumstances, including

- (a) historical difficulties with absentee land owners, and the consequent problems faced by the inhabitants of Prince Edward Island in governing their own affairs, both public and private;
- (b) the province's small land area and comparatively high population density, unique among the provinces of Canada; and
- (c) the fragile nature of the province's ecology, environment, and lands and the resultant need for the exercise of prudent, balanced, and steadfast stewardship to ensure the protection of the province's ecology, environment, and lands. 1998,c.79,s.20.

CONTROL OF LAND HOLDINGS2. Maximum land holdings

- (1) The following limits apply in respect of aggregate land holdings:
- (a) no person shall have an aggregate land holding in excess of 1000 acres;
 - (b) no corporation shall have an aggregate land holding in excess of 3000 acres.

- (2) The Commission may, at its discretion, authorize a succession period of up to five years when illness, death or other extenuating circumstance results in a person or corporation exceeding the limits set out in subsection (1) for an aggregate land holding.

Additional succession period

- (3) The Commission, with the approval of the Lieutenant Governor in Council, may at any time prior to the expiry of the period referred to in subsection (2) authorize an additional succession period of up to two years.

4. Non-resident person

A person who is not a resident person shall not have an aggregate land holding

- (a) in excess of five acres; or

5.1 Transitional provisions

Where an aggregate land holding not exceeding ten acres in area or having a shore frontage of less than three hundred and thirty feet has been lawfully acquired by a non-resident person or corporation in accordance with the law in force at the time of acquisition, it shall be deemed to be held in compliance with this Act as if a permit therefor had been granted under section 4 or 5, as the case may be. 1995,c.22,s.3.

5.2 Transitional provisions

Where an aggregate land holding in excess of five acres or having a shore frontage in excess of one hundred and sixty-five feet has been acquired by a resident person who subsequently ceases to be a resident person, he or she may continue to have and hold that land holding without obtaining a permit under section 4. 1995,c.22,s.3; 2014,c.5,s.5.

6. Subsequent acquisitions

For the avoidance of doubt it is declared that where a person or corporation has an aggregate land holding for which permission is required under section 4 or 5, any subsequent acquisition of a land holding by that person or corporation similarly requires such permission except where the aggregate land holding, including the land holding proposed to be acquired, is less than the maximum prescribed by that section. 1982,c.16,s.6; 1995,c.22,s.16.
