REGULATED HEALTH PROFESSIONS ACT
DECLARATION RE

Under authority of section 100 of the Regulated Health Professions Act Stats. P.E.I. 2013, c. 48 Council ordered that a Proclamation do issue proclaiming the said "Regulated Health Professions Act" to come into force effective December 20, 2013.

EC2013-829

REGULATED HEALTH PROFESSIONS ACT
GENERAL REGULATIONS

Pursuant to section 96 of the Regulated Health Professions Act R.S.P.E.I. 1988, Cap. R-10.1, Council made the following regulations:

2. The application fee to be submitted with an application under section 73 of the Act is $500.

3. For the purposes of section 76 of the Act, the costs that may be charged include, but are not limited to, all disbursements incurred by the Advisory Council in the conduct of the investigation of an application, including (a) fees and reasonable expenses for experts or investigators whose reports or attendance were reasonably necessary for the investigation; and (b) long distance telephone and facsimile charges, courier delivery charges and similar miscellaneous expenses.

4. If the Advisory Council conducts a single investigation for the designation of a health profession in respect of more than one application under section 73 of the Act, the costs that may be charged for the purposes of section 76 of the Act may be prorated by the Minister between or among the applicants.

5. For the purpose of an investigation respecting the designation of a health profession under the Act, the Minister or the Advisory Council, as the case may be, may consider, in addition to the criteria set out in section 75 of the Act, the following: (a) the extent to which the health profession has demonstrated that there is a public interest in ensuring the availability of services provided by the health profession; (b) the extent to which the services of the health profession provide a recognized and demonstrated benefit to the health, safety or well-being of the public; (c) the extent to which there exists a body of knowledge that forms the basis of the standards of practice of the health profession; (d) whether practitioners of the health profession are awarded a certificate or degree from a recognized post-secondary educational institution; (e) whether it is important that continuing competence of a practitioner of the health profession be monitored; (f) the extent to which there exists within the health profession recognized leadership which has expressed a commitment to regulating the health profession in the public interest; (g) the extent to which regulation of the health profession is likely to enhance inter-professional collaboration and the labour mobility of its practitioners.

6. These regulations come into force on December 20, 2013.
EXPLANATORY NOTES

SECTION 2 establishes the application fee for the purposes of section 73 of the Act as $500.

SECTION 3 provides that the costs that may be charged for the purposes of section 76 of the Act include all disbursements made by the Advisory Council in its investigation of an application, including fees and reasonable expenses for experts or investigators, long distance telephone and facsimile charges, courier charges and similar expenses.

SECTION 4 authorizes the Minister to prorate the costs charged pursuant to section 76 between or among several applicants where the Advisory Council conducts a single investigation in respect of all the applications.

SECTION 5 establishes additional criteria respecting the designation of a health profession that may be considered by the Minister or the Advisory Council, as the case may be, including

- whether the applicant has demonstrated there is a public interest in ensuring the availability of services provided by the health profession;
- whether the services of the health profession provide a recognized and demonstrated benefit to the health, safety or well-being of the public;
- whether there is a body of knowledge that forms the basis of the standards of practice of the health profession;
- whether practitioners are awarded a certificate or degree from a recognized post-secondary educational institution;
- whether it is important to monitor the continuing competence of practitioners of the health profession;
- whether there exists recognized leadership within the health profession which has expressed a commitment to regulating the Health profession in the public interest;
- whether regulation of the health profession is likely to enhance inter-professional collaboration and the labour mobility of its practitioners.

SECTION 6 provides for the coming into force of these regulations.
