SCHEDULE 7

USE AND INTERPRETATION OF THE NUMBERING SYSTEM OF THE CANADIAN ELECTRICAL CODE, PART I

The following is quoted from the Code:

The Code is divided into numbered sections, each covering some main division of the work. The sections are divided into numbered rules with captions for easy reference.

(a) Numbering System - Even numbers have been used throughout to identify sections and rules. Rule numbers consist of the section number separated by a hyphen from the 3 or 4-digit figure. The intention in general is that odd numbers may be used for new rules required by interim revisions. Due to the introduction of some new rules and the revocation of some existing rules during the revision of each edition, the rule numbers for any particular requirement are not always the same in successive editions;
(b) Subdivision of Rules - Rules are subdivided in the manner illustrated by Rules 8-204 and 8-206 and the subdivisions are identified as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Rule</th>
<th>Subrule</th>
<th>Paragraph</th>
<th>Subparagraph</th>
<th>Clause</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>00-000</td>
<td>(1)</td>
<td>(a)</td>
<td>(i)</td>
<td>(A)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

(c) REFERENCE TO OTHER RULES, ETC. Where reference is made to two or more rules, the first and last rules mentioned are included in the reference. References within a subrule to other subrules mean the subrules of that rule. References to a subrule of another rule are, for convenience, expressed by the rule number followed by the subrule number in parentheses (e.g. "Rule 10-200(3)" and "Subrule (3) of Rule 10-200").

EXPLANATORY NOTES

SECTION 1 establishes definitions for the purposes of the regulations.

SECTION 2 establishes the requirement for a person, corporation or other entity that contracts for or engages in the work of installing, extending, changing or repairing electrical installations to be licenced as an electrical contractor, and authorizes the Chief Electrical Inspector to licence qualified persons as electrical contractors. An electrical contractor is prohibited from employing or engaging a person to do work on an electrical installation unless the person is a certified electrician, an apprentice working under the supervision of a certified electrician, or a holder of a permit under the Apprenticeship and Trades Qualification Act in the trade of construction electrician.

SECTION 3 authorizes the Chief Electrical Inspector to register and licence technicians who meet the requirements of the section respecting training and experience. A registered technician’s licence authorizes the register technician to perform or supervise work within the restricted area of electrical work indicated on the licence in the specified circumstances.

SECTION 4 authorizes the Chief Electrical Inspector to issue a restricted licence to a qualified applicant. The restricted licence authorizes the holder to carry out electrical work subject to the restrictions specified by the Chief Electrical Inspector and in the specified circumstances.

SECTION 5 authorizes a person who held the specified qualifications as of December 31, 2006, or holds a permit in the trade of construction electrician issued under the Apprenticeship and Trades Qualification Act, to continue to work as an electrical contractor or to work on electrical installations under the supervision of an electrical contractor.

SECTION 6 prohibits the holder of a licence from transferring it to any other person or specified entity.

SECTION 7 authorizes the Chief Electrical Inspector or an inspector to issue an order to a licence holder who is not qualified or has ceased to be qualified to hold the licence or who has failed to comply with the Act, regulations and Code. The order must state the reason why it was issued, the defect the holder is required to remedy and the time the holder has to comply. The section also authorizes the Chief Electrical Inspector to suspend or cancel a licence in the specified circumstances.

SECTION 8 provides that the forms to be used for applications are the forms approved by the Minister.

SECTION 9 authorizes the Chief Electrical Inspector to issue a special electrician’s licence that authorizes a qualified applicant to operate or maintain electrical installations, electric motors and other related equipment only on the premises of the person’s employer.

SECTION 10 provides that a licence issued under the regulations expires on January 31 of the year following the year in which it was issued.

SECTION 11 formally adopts the Schedules to the regulations and authorizes the fees set out in them.
SECTION 12 formally adopts the 2018 Canadian Electrical Code, Part I, Twenty-fourth Edition, subject to the amendments, variations, additions and revocations specified in Schedule 1 to the regulations.

SECTION 13 revokes the Electrical Inspection Act Regulations (ECAug.1/40) and the Electrical Inspection Act Canadian Electrical Code Regulations (EC406/13).

SECTION 14 provides for the commencement of the regulations.

SCHEDULE 1 makes the amendments, variations, additions and revocations to the Code as specified.

SCHEDULE 2 sets out the flat rate fee structure for the specified items.

SCHEDULE 3 sets out an itemized fee schedule for the specified items.
