

PEI AgriStability Program - 2025

Tax-Aligned Reference Margin Consent Form

Fill out this form only if you wish to switch your Reference Margin calculations from the Accrual Adjusted Reference Margin calculation (traditional method) to the Tax-Aligned Reference Margin calculation.

If you opt for a tax-aligned reference margin you will not be able to change the method used to calculate your reference margin for the 2025 program year. In addition, we will continue to calculate your reference margin on a tax-aligned basis going forward.

You may request a change to how your reference margin is calculated once you have not had an accrual adjusted reference margin calculated in any of the four years immediately prior to the program year the change is being requested. If you are new to the program or have not participated in the last four years, you may request a change to how your reference margin is calculated at any time follow the 2025 program year.

For partnerships, each partner can decide if they want to have a tax-aligned reference margin. For combined operations, all members of the whole farm must opt for a tax-aligned reference margin and all members must report using the same method of accounting.
