Background:

The Prince Edward Island Office of Immigration (the Office) administers provincial immigration pathways in partnership with the federal government - Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC), as outlined in the Agreement for Canada – Prince Edward Island Co-operation on Immigration. The purpose of the province administering immigration pathways is to increase the economic benefits of immigration to Prince Edward Island (PEI), by providing the province with a mechanism to prioritize and nominate candidates for permanent residency. Prince Edward Island continues to focus on supporting workforce development by nominating candidates with the skills required to fill job opportunities.

Introduction:

This guide is for the administration of the following immigration pathways:

Provincial Nominee Program – Skilled Worker, Critical Worker, PEI International Graduate, Occupations in Demand, and Intermediate Experience
PEI Express Entry – Federal Skilled Worker, Federal Skilled Trades and Canadian Experience Class
Note: To be eligible for consideration in PEI Express Entry you must have a valid Federal Express Entry Profile Number.

Prince Edward Island receives an annual allocation from the federal government through the Provincial Nominee Program and Express Entry. This annual allocation determines the number of applications that can be nominated by the province on an annual basis. Information on the volume of applicants invited to apply and the schedule can be found on our website: immigratepei.ca

Use of Representatives:

If you choose to use an immigration representative, they must be a member in good standing of the Immigration Consultants of Canada Regulatory Council or a provincial law society. All representatives must register with the Office by submitting the PEIPNP L-03: Provincial Representative Form. Upon approval, the Representative will be issued a system-generated key required to access the online system.

You are not required to use a representative to complete the work on your behalf, if you are able to represent your own interest in the immigration process. The Office does not give preferential treatment to applicants represented by an immigration lawyer or consultant. Working with an immigration consultant does not guarantee you will receive nomination from the Province of PEI. If you do receive assistance in the preparation of your application, you must complete the PEIW-03: PEI Workforce Use of a Representative Form.

Step 1: Assess Your Eligibility

Prior to creating a profile in the provincial Expression of Interest system, you are required to review program criteria to ensure you meet the stated requirements.

Step 2: Expression of Interest

Individuals who meet program criteria and are interested in applying to the Prince Edward Island Provincial Nominee Program must submit a profile in our online Expression of Interest (EOI) system. You can create your EOI account at any time by providing your contact and passport information, including a valid email address. Once your account is created, you may select the Provincial Stream that you would like to apply under and submit your profile for review by the Office. If your profile is selected, you will receive an Invitation to Apply. Priority is given to those who demonstrate the greatest potential to become economically established in PEI.

Note: An Expression of Interest profile is not an application; it is an indication of your interest in being considered for our program and confirmation that you believe you meet required criteria. The Office reserves the right to limit intake or make exclusions from Expression of Interest draws.

Step 3: Invitation to Apply

If you are invited to apply, you will receive an email notification that will include your file number and a link to our Workforce Application Form. You will have up to 30 days from the date of invitation to complete the online application form. After this time, your invitation will expire and you will have to submit a new profile for consideration. You can check the status of your profile at any time by logging into your EOI account. If you decide not to submit your application, you may also withdraw your profile through the EOI system. Please note that you may submit a new profile immediately, but the new profile is not guaranteed another Invitation to Apply.

Note: The frequency of Invitations to Apply is based on annual nomination allocations, processing capacity, and provincial priorities. You can find information regarding the invitation schedule on our website: immigratepei.ca

Step 4: Prepare your Application

If you are invited to apply, you must submit your Workforce Application Form electronically and pay the $300CAD fee through PEI's online service and gather all completed forms and required supporting documentation listed in the checklist (Appendix C). Please answer all questions and sign all forms, where applicable. By signing these documents, you are certifying that all information provided therein, whether prepared by you or not, is complete and true in all respects. If your documents are not in English or French, you must provide a copy of the certified translation and a copy of the original document. Only submit requested documents with your initial application. The Office reserves the right to request additional supporting documents at any time.

Note: If there are changes in your circumstances, such as family status, employment, contact information, etc., you must notify the Office immediately. If any changes occur after nomination, you must notify the Office and IRCC.

PEI Job Offer:

Use of a Representative:

PEIW-03: Workforce Use of a Representative Form

All supporting documents must be provided as one combined portable document format (PDF) file. Please note that all documents must be clear enough to read and

- documents with images should be scanned in colour;
- text-only documents may be scanned at a grayscale setting to reduce file size;
- scanner resolution should be a minimum of 300 dots per inch;
- no enhancement or editing should be done to a scanned document;
- the total size of the document should be no more than 50 megabytes (MB); and
- the file name of your attachment must be no more than 50 characters.

Step 5: Submit Your Application

Payment of the Application Fee will be prompted at the time of the Workforce Application Form submission. Accepted forms of payment are Master Card, Visa, Mastercard Debit and Visa Debit. Your online application will be received by the Office as soon as your payment has been approved.

Within five business days you will receive a secure link to upload your supporting documents. Once all your supporting documents have been uploaded in one pdf, your application is considered complete. Applicants can log into their Expression of Interest account for status updates on their file. Should any additional information be required for processing, a program officer will reach out to you or your representative, if applicable. Our office reserves the right to request meetings with the principal applicant and dependent family member, if applicable, at any time during file processing. Please note, our office does not post or guarantee progressing times.

Step 6: Submit Your Nominated Application for Permanent Residency

PEI Application Nomination:

If you are selected for nomination by PEI, you must submit your application for Permanent Residency within three months of receiving your nomination certificate. Please remember that you must maintain the conditions of your nomination while you are awaiting a decision on your PR application. IRCC is responsible for the decision on all applications for Permanent Residency. More information on how to submit your application to the federal office can be found on IRCC's website.

PEI Application Refusal:

If you are found non-compliant with the PEI Office of Immigration's requirements, your application will be refused and a decline letter will be issued. There is no appeal process for refused applications. Processing fees will not be returned. You may choose to submit a new Expression of Interest immediately, if you meet the program criteria at that time.

Misrepresentation:

If it is found that you, or any person included in or associated with your application, has directly or indirectly misrepresented or intentionally withheld or failed to submit, material fact(s) or information that induced or could have induced errors in the administration of the program whereas you could have been issued a nomination certificate without having provided truthful and complete information to enable the PEI Office of Immigration to properly assess the application, your application will be refused due to misrepresentation, regardless of your ability to meet any, or all of the eligibility requirements. Applicants who are refused for misrepresentation are prohibited from applying to the PEI Office of Immigration for two years from the date of decision.

Step 7: Landing in Prince Edward Island

If you are approved for Permanent Residency by IRCC, you may be contacted for up to five years after landing with a short survey to update your file.

Employer support from an eligible PEI employer

All applications with a job offer in NOC 73300 must be supported by an eligible PEI employer. To be eligible to support applications an employer must:

- have an Established Place of Business. An “Established Place of Business” means a physical structure that is:
 - owned or leased by the Employer;
 - located within Prince Edward Island and which has both a street and mailing address within Prince Edward Island;
 - open for business and staffed during regular business hours by one or more persons employed on a permanent basis (i.e., not an independent contractor) for the purpose of the general management of the Employer’s trucking-related business operations, and which has:
 - clear signage representing the business
 - areas where equipment is parked, stored, or maintained (e.g. garage)
- have been in continuous, active operation in Prince Edward Island for at least two years (24- months) under the same ownership;
 - if there is or has been a change in ownership, the business must continue to operate for at least two years under new ownership before being able to access Prince Edward Island immigration programs. This does not apply, if the change of ownership has been to a direct family member.
- be in good standing with any provincial and or federal legislation governing employment standards and occupational health and safety legislation; and,
- not be in violation of the Immigration and Refugees Protection Act (IRPA) or Immigration and Refugees Protection Regulations (IRPR).

Employers must be actively engaged in the PEI business, and therefore directly connected to the employment of the candidate. Consequently, recruitment-type, temporary placement-type, or broker-type agencies (i.e. where candidates are nominated with the support of one employer and then contracted out to other businesses) are not permitted. An Immigration Program Officer must be satisfied that the individual making the offer of employment has an employer-employee relationship.

Appendix F [Telework Policy]

The purpose of this policy is to support PEI employers with chronic labour needs and skill gaps throughout the province while maintaining strong program integrity and supporting the settlement and retention of newcomers to the Province. This policy reflects the changing business environment in which more businesses in Prince Edward Island are operating using a distributed workforce model, including teleworking arrangements. In many cases, companies have employees working in different physical locations. In many cases, companies are utilizing hybrid models where employees work both in the office and from home on different days.

- This policy applies to employers whose candidates' job requires them to telework for any amount of time. The application must meet the criteria outlined in this policy.
- Employers whose business model is a purely virtual office and candidates whose job offer is with an employer whose business model is a virtual office (i.e., no bricks and mortar), are not eligible for the PEIPNP or the AIP.
- The policy does not apply to BIC Stream applications.

Mandatory Criteria:

- The candidate lives in Prince Edward Island at the time of application, has lived in PEI during their eligibility period for PNP or AIP, and continues to live in PEI until Federal PR processing is complete.
- A maximum of 25% of the employer's total workforce may be applicants to our Provincial immigration programs (PNP and AIP) who are working from home.
 - Example: if an employer has total workforce of 100 employees, 25 PNP/AIP applicants may work from home under this policy.
- The business has a minimum of 10 employees in PEI who have worked for the business for at least two years and are residents of PEI. The PEI Office of Immigration may require proof such as but not limited to job descriptions, payroll records and work schedules.
- A business with fewer than 10 employees may be eligible if it has a pre-existing relationship with Innovation PEI (IPEI) and has confirmation of support from IPEI.
- The business operates from a commercial, industrial or retail office space in Prince Edward Island and has operated with employees from this space for at least two years.
- The employer demonstrates that the candidate addresses a labour need in PEI and demonstrates the rationale for the candidate to telework rather than work from an office.
- The employer must inform the PEI Office of Immigration of any changes in employment status including relocation outside of the province.
- Employers who fail to inform the Office of Immigration of employment changes including relocation outside the province may be suspended from using provincial immigration programs for a period of one year.

Final determination of eligibility for a PEIPNP and AIP application that includes a telework arrangement is at the sole discretion of the PEI Office of Immigration.
