The role of the Seniors Navigator is to enhance access to information and the navigational experiences of near seniors, and their caregivers and family members. The work of the Seniors Navigator allows seniors to access programs and services from community organizations, municipal, provincial and federal governments in a timelier manner.

The Seniors Navigator can assist seniors by:

- Assisting with information on services and programs;
- Directing to the appropriate service and programs contacts;
- Helping with completing applications for services and programs;
- Helping to direct seniors’ concerns to the appropriate avenue; and/or
- Promoting awareness of the services and programs for seniors.

About the Seniors Guide

The 2024 Prince Edward Island Seniors Guide includes general information about programs and services provided by the federal and provincial governments, community organizations and other service providers.

The guide is organized into seven chapters and an appendix. It includes a table of contents at the front to help guide you to the program information. You can also look at the index at the back of the Seniors Guide to find a specific program or service.

For more information about services and programs for seniors, you can visit our website (PrinceEdwardIsland.ca), email (seniors@gov.pe.ca), or call toll free (at 1-866-770-0588).

Disclaimers

- Since programs and services change, readers are reminded that this booklet is published annually as a guide, while on-line versions of the guide may be updated more frequently.

- Contact information that is accurate at the time of printing or posting may change over time.

- Whenever possible, this guide identifies a central information source that can direct you to the appropriate organization or regional office in your area. Sometimes the number listed is for the volunteer who provides the service. In some cases, you will be referred to the phone book or a website that lists the information.

- Specific details should be obtained directly from sources listed.

- Inclusion of a private sector service in this guide is not an endorsement or recommendation. Consumers are encouraged to be cautious and ensure that individuals and companies that they deal with are reputable.

- The Seniors’ Secretariat accepts no responsibility for events or actions caused by or resulting from the contents of this guide.
On behalf of members of the Seniors’ Secretariat and my government colleagues, I am very pleased to present this edition of the Prince Edward Island Seniors’ Guide.

My goal is to connect seniors with the many helpful programs and services in this guide, in a timely and efficient way.

Today’s seniors are living longer, remaining more active, and embracing a vibrant outlook far into their senior years. In PEI, more than 19% of our population is aged 65 years and older, higher than the national average of 17.2%.

As Minister Responsible for Seniors, it is clear to me that the nearly 30,000 adults aged 65 and older who live in PEI are significant contributors to the economic and social well-being of their communities. Seniors provide valuable skills, knowledge and experience that we can all learn from.

In addition to the Seniors’ Guide, I invite you to call our toll-free Seniors’ Line, 1-866-770-0588, or dial 2-1-1 to speak with qualified staff members who can provide information on programs and services. Additional information on programs and services for Island seniors can also be found at www.PrinceEdwardIsland.ca/seniors.

I hope you enjoy this guide, and I look forward to working with you.

Yours sincerely,

Barb Ramsay
Hon. Barb Ramsay
Minister of Social Development and Seniors
Message from the PEI Seniors’ Secretariat

The Prince Edward Island (PEI) Seniors’ Secretariat is pleased to present this Seniors’ Guide. We hope that you will find the information helpful, whether you are searching for a telephone number, a website for an organization, or discovering a new program that may be of interest to a neighbor, friend or family member.

The Seniors’ Secretariat is a group of volunteers, mainly comprised of seniors, who represent community based organizations and communities across PEI. The Seniors’ Secretariat is mandated to provide policy and program advice to government and community, increase public awareness and education, and undertake research and information gathering.

The Seniors Guide, which is sponsored by the Seniors’ Secretariat, fulfills a commitment to seniors, families, caregivers and care providers to improve access to information about programs and services. The Seniors’ Guide was designed for you, by older adults and it contains information that seniors feel is important. This guide is organized into chapters by theme to make information easy to find.

Seniors’ organizations and service providers played a key role in providing input to the PEI Seniors Guide and in taking the time to contribute to this year’s update - thank you for your support!

If you have questions or concerns for the Seniors’ Secretariat give us a call toll-free at 1-866-770-0588 or send us an email at seniors@gov.pe.ca. We look forward to hearing from you.

Regards,

Audrey Morris
Chairperson, Prince Edward Island Seniors’ Secretariat
The PEI Seniors’ Secretariat is focused on fulfilling three main roles and responsibilities:

- Providing advice on policy and program development for seniors to government, business and community;
- Offering public awareness and education on issues of importance to seniors; and
- Research and information gathering to promote informed decisions.

Who are the members of the Seniors’ Secretariat?
The Seniors’ Secretariat is composed of three members at large, and representatives from: the Dental Association of PEI, PEI Senior Citizens’ Federation, Hospice PEI, PEI Women’s Institute, National Association of Federal Retirees, Les Francophone L’age D’or de I.P.E., Mi’kmaq Confederacy of PEI, Health PEI (Geriatric Program), Age Friendly PEI, and Resource Abilities. Representatives provide information and advice that supports the work of the Seniors’ Secretariat and establish communications between the Secretariat and the member’s organization.

Areas of Action
The Seniors’ Secretariat has identified a number of priority areas for action to improve the quality of life for older adults. These priorities include:

- Ageism and Promoting Positive Images of Aging: Ageism is any action, attitude, or prejudice that is applied to an individual or group of people based on age. The Secretariat attempts to combat ageism by increasing public awareness of this issue, challenging stereotypes (both positive and negative), and realistically portraying the diversity of Island seniors.

- Age-Friendly Communities: Age-friendly communities increase social and economic prosperity by ensuring that communities remain welcoming places for people of all ages and abilities. On PEI, work focuses on planning, developing, and maintaining Island communities that are ‘great places to grow up and grow older in’. The Secretariat seeks opportunities to work with community organizations and municipalities to promote age-friendly communities for Islanders.

- Financial Security and Safety: Planning for retirement, responding to changes in the economy, improving financial literacy, and protecting assets from fraud are a small sampling of the issues facing older Islanders. The Seniors’ Secretariat works with local organizations and agencies to distribute information related to financial security and preparedness. In addition, safety is important across the life span. For seniors and near seniors, specific safety issues include personal safety at home and in institutions; along with safe use, storage and disposal of medication, emergency preparedness, injury prevention and protection from abuse. The Seniors’ Secretariat seeks to work with community organizations and governments to increase public awareness on safety issues.

- Healthy Aging: The Seniors’ Secretariat believes that it is essential that older adults take an active role in maintaining their wellness. The Secretariat’s work in this area focuses on collaborating with partners to promote active living, healthy eating, tobacco control, and mental health.

- Social Isolation: Social isolation has been described as less social contact than an individual wishes. Although anyone can become socially isolated, seniors may be particularly at risk because of physical changes, environmental barriers to social participation, and changes in one’s personal and social support networks. The Secretariat seeks opportunities to enhance seniors’ social connections.
Chapter 1: Active Living and Learning

Newcomers

The Immigrant and Refugee Services Association Prince Edward Island (IRSA) helps immigrants and refugees settle in PEI.

The IRSA:
• provides information, training and resources covering all aspects of settlement and integration to immigrant families and individuals;
• assists newcomers to become independent and helps in their search to find employment;
• matches adult volunteers with newcomers for English language skills, Canadian workplace integration support and community connections; and
• educates and informs community, businesses and government departments about the needs of refugees and immigrants, and about the value diversity brings to PEI.

Life Long Learning

Community School
More than 2,500 Islanders attend community schools each year across the province, taking courses such as guitar, arts, crafts and introductory computer. Some communities hold community school at local schools, seniors’ housing units, or manors. Most programs are held weekly for ten weeks in the winter, but a few are held in the fall. Programs can be in the morning, afternoon or evening. There is a registration fee.

Seniors College
This is a membership-based organization offering over 100 courses per year, mostly taught by seniors, at locations in Queens, Prince and Kings counties. Classes are typically one to ten weeks in duration, held on a weekday morning or afternoon. There are no exams or papers - the goal is to have participants share their skills, knowledge, life experiences and joy of learning.

There is an annual membership fee that allows people age 50+ to take as many or as few courses as they wish. A registration day is held in early September and online registration for courses is also available. New members can join and sign up for available courses throughout the year.

Drug Cost Assistance Program

The Seniors’ Drug Cost Assistance Program is for people who are 65 or older and are eligible for PEI Medicare. All Island seniors are automatically registered in this program when they turn 65.

The program covers approved medications that are prescribed by a doctor. You are responsible to pay a small portion of the total cost (for the medication and pharmacy professional fee). The remaining balance of the total cost of the medication is paid directly to the pharmacy by the provincial government.

Items that are not included under the plan:

- Most non-prescription medications such as cough and cold preparations, stomach and bowel preparations, vitamin and mineral supplements;
- Diagnostic agents, therapeutic nutrient supplements, prostheses and other medical devices;
- Any benefits already covered under any other program.

If you have questions about whether a particular item is a covered benefit, please contact your pharmacist or doctor.

There are additional programs offered through PEI Pharmacy Services, including the Diabetes Drug Program, Home Oxygen Program, Catastrophic Drug Plan, and the High Cost Drug Program.

Toll Free Phone Number: 1-877-577-3737

High Cost Drug Program

The high-cost drug program helps pay for approved medications for certain illnesses. Coverage is based on household income. Within this program are medications for multiple sclerosis, ankylosing spondylitis, wet age-related macular degeneration, pulmonary hypertension, Crohn’s Disease, plaque psoriasis, psoriatic arthritis, rheumatoid arthritis and some high-cost cancer medications.

Toll Free Phone Number: 1-877-577-3737

Catastrophic Drug Program

If the cost of your prescription medications is making it hard to cover your other living expenses this program may help. This program limits your annual drug costs for eligible prescription medications to a set percentage of your household income. The list of medications Islanders can apply to receive under the program includes prescription medications on the list of drugs funded by the province (healthpei.ca/formulary), except for over the counter medications and those you are already receiving through another public drug program.

To qualify for the program, you must:

- Be a permanent resident of Prince Edward Island (a person who is present in the province for six months or more per year);
- File a Prince Edward Island tax return;
- Have a valid Prince Edward Island Health Card;
- Re-apply each year. The program runs from July 1 to June 30.

Pension and Benefits

Canada Pension Plan (CPP)
Most working Canadians contribute to the CPP. If you have contributed to the plan, and are minimum age 60, you are entitled to a retirement pension. All Canada Pension Plan benefits are paid out of the CPP fund and are subject to income tax.

If you have contributed enough to the Canada Pension Plan, you or your family are eligible for the following:
- Retirement benefits
- Death benefits
- Credit splitting for separated couples
- Disability benefits
- Survivor benefits
- Children’s benefits

Toll Free Phone Number: 1-800-277-9914

Old Age Security Program (OAS)
The Old Age Security pension is a taxable monthly payment available to most people 65 years of age and older who meet the Canadian legal status and residence requirements. Your employment history is not a factor in determining eligibility. You can receive the OAS pension even if you have never worked outside the home or are still working.

In April 2013, Service Canada started a process to automatically enroll seniors who are eligible to receive the Old Age Security pension. If you can be automatically enrolled, Service Canada will send you a letter the month after you turn 64. If you do not receive this letter, you must apply for your Old Age Security pension.

You can delay receiving your OAS pension for up to 60 months (five years) after the date you become eligible for the pension in exchange for a higher monthly amount. If you delay receiving your Old Age Security pension, your monthly pension payment will be increased by 0.6% for every month you delay receiving it, up to a maximum of 36% at age 70.

You may also qualify for one of the following benefits:
- Allowance for the survivor (ALWS)
- Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS)
- Allowance

However, you must meet all of the following conditions:
- meet the age requirements
- be a legal resident of Canada
- receive an Old Age Security pension or be the spouse or common law partner of an Old Age Security pension recipient
- your annual income (or in the case of a couple, your combined income) is lower than the maximum annual income.

Veterans Affairs Canada

Veterans Affairs Canada offer services and benefits to:

- Canadian and Allied War veterans;
- Former and still serving members of the Canadian Forces and RCMP;
- Certain civilians; and
- Eligible dependents.
Disability Pensions and Awards
Disability pensions and awards are available for conditions related to service in the Second World War or the Korean War (including war service veterans in the Merchant Navy), Canadian Forces, RCMP or those serving in support of the Canadian Forces in wartime or in Special Duty/Operations Areas.

Funeral and Burial Program
Funeral and burial benefits are available for eligible veterans and peacetime disabled pensioners who qualify. These benefits are provided by the Last Post Fund on behalf of Veterans Affairs Canada.

Health Benefits
Fourteen different types of health benefits (called Programs of Choice) are offered, including prescriptions, dental, hearing and vision aids. These benefits may also cover the cost of travel to seek medical care and the cost of travel for an escort, if required.

Long-Term Care
This program offers intermediate or chronic care to eligible Canadian and Allied war service veterans and certain civilians in Veterans Affairs contract facilities or in one of the 1500 community facilities across the country.

Mental Health Services
Support is offered to those who are suffering from operational stress injuries, such as post-traumatic stress disorder, anxiety, or depression, as a result of their service. Services are provided to still-serving or released members of the Canadian Forces or RCMP and their families.

Veterans Independence Program (VIP)
This is a national home care program that helps qualified veterans stay in their homes and communities longer. It offers help with housekeeping, home accommodations and grounds maintenance. Surviving spouses may be eligible to receive housekeeping and/or grounds maintenance services from the VIP program.

War Veterans Allowance
This allowance provides regular monthly payments to some low-income veterans of the Second World War or the Korean War. The surviving spouse or common-law partner, as well as orphans, may qualify for this allowance, if the deceased veteran had the required war service.

Chapter 4: Housing Services and Supports
Community Care Facilities

A licensed community care facility is a privately owned and operated establishment with five or more residents. These facilities provide services such as housekeeping, meals, assistance with grooming and hygiene. Twenty-four hour nursing care is not available at these facilities. Residents are responsible for paying the cost of accommodation, although financial assistance may be available in certain situations.

Phone: 902-368-6414
Email: deptHW@gov.pe.ca

Long Term Care Facilities

Long Term Care facilities (or “Nursing Homes”) provide skilled professional assessment and care on a 24-hour basis. The care required is carried out by, or under the supervision of a Registered Nurse. There are publicly-funded government manors and private nursing homes.

Public Facilities (Government Run)

These facilities are publicly-funded nursing homes. A screening process determines eligibility for admission. The public nursing homes in PEI include:

- Maplewood Manor (Alberton);
- Beach Grove Home (Charlottetown);
- Prince Edward Home (Charlottetown);
- Riverview Manor (Montague);
- Margaret Stewart Ellis Home (O’Leary);
- Colville Manor (Souris);
- Somerset Manor (Summerside);
- Wedgewood Manor (Summerside), and;
- Stewart Memorial Hospital (Tyne Valley).

Private

These licensed facilities are privately owned and operated. The private nursing homes in PEI include:

- Andrews of Park West (Charlottetown);
- Andrews of Stratford (Stratford);
- Andrews of Summerside (Summerside);
- Clinton View Lodge (Kensington);
- Dr. John Gillis Memorial Lodge (Belfast);
- Garden Home (Charlottetown);
- PEI Atlantic Baptist Home (Charlottetown);
- South Shore Villa (Crapaud);
- The Mount Continuing Care Community (Charlottetown), and;
- Whisperwood Villa (Charlottetown).

Home Support Services

Considerations for Hiring in-Home Services

For seniors who purchase in-home support services such as lawn care, snow removal, or house cleaning offered by private businesses or individuals, the Better Business Bureau recommends the following three steps:

1. Be informed. Do your homework by talking with friends and family to learn about their experiences with companies; check the telephone book’s yellow pages for names of businesses; shop around and compare prices.

2. Ask questions. Is the business licensed, bonded, have staff members undergone criminal records checks, does the company carry insurance; how long have they been in business? Ask (and check) references from other clients. Ask questions about the cost of services.

3. Proceed only when you are comfortable: Get details of your agreement to purchase a home support service in writing, including what will be provided and what is not included and the cost. Don’t feel pressured by sales tactics to sign any contract that you do not understand. Protect your personal information - don’t give credit card or banking information to businesses that you don’t know.

Chapter 5: Caregiving
Many of us take on a new role as we age - the role of caregiver to a family member, friend or neighbor. Caregivers help in many ways, which may include providing help around the home, assistance with bathing, feeding, giving medications, managing finances, offering transportation and emotional support are some examples. You may be providing care to someone older or younger than yourself who may live in your home, neighborhood or at a distance, in another province. Some people provide caregiving support to more than one person at a time (for example, caring for an older parent and children).

Each caregiving situation is unique, but if you are currently a caregiver or you are thinking about a time in the future when you may become a caregiver, it is important to know where to find supports and services that may be helpful. It is especially important to access supports and services when you find:

- you are taking on new or more intensive caregiving duties;
- you are feeling overwhelmed and need help or a break;
- the person that you are caring for needs more help than you are able to provide.

Caregiving can be unpredictable, especially when caring for an older relative or someone with a chronic illness. There may be times when an urgent situation unexpectedly requires your full attention. This is normal and the good news is that by planning ahead and taking care of yourself you can be better prepared to cope with challenges that arise.

Taking Care of Yourself

A caregiver is a key person in the life of the person receiving care and so it is important that you stay physically and emotionally healthy to be well prepared to provide care.

Take care of your physical health

You can do this by eating regularly, choosing healthy foods, getting enough rest and exercise. This may involve finding ways to be physically active with the person that you are providing care to or taking time for a rest when they are resting. Taking care of your health builds a solid foundation that will support you to be able to provide care for other people so remember to schedule regular appointments with your health care team, dentist and eye doctor to ensure that you are maintaining your health.

Take care of your emotional health

One of the most challenging aspects of being a caregiver is learning to cope with feelings. It is normal to feel a range of emotions, at times you may feel frustrated, upset or sad, angry, guilty, or afraid. These emotions may be personal or they may reflect how the person you are caring for is feeling. If you can accept your feelings, recognize that you are doing your best and understand that there are some things that you cannot change, this can help you to refocus on what you can do. Maintaining a strong support network is a way to gain some perspective on your situation by being reminded of the successes rather than challenges.

Learn to recognize signs of stress

While everyone has their unique signs of stress, common signs can include:

- difficulty concentrating;
- exhaustion;
- health problems;
- weight gain or loss;
- denial or anger;
- social withdrawal;
- excessive worry.

These are signals that it is time to talk to family, friends, health care providers and the community and seek out support. Taking a break, asking for help or giving up tasks to another person are all ways to recognize and respect your limits as a caregiver. Taking steps to reduce stress can prevent burnout in the future.

Maintain contact with other people in your life

Though your time for socializing may be limited, it is important to avoid becoming socially isolated by maintaining contact with other family members, friends and neighbors. Other people in your life can be a source of information, advice, comfort and practical support to help you get things done. Remember, people generally want to help - they are often just looking for ways to be helpful. Keeping in contact by telephone, email, video, mail or visiting are all ways to keep in touch with people. You may also find a health care provider or a support group offers an opportunity to share experiences, gain practical tips and advice.
Prepare for the future
Planning for the future can help to reduce daily stress by reducing the uncertainty of what would happen if an emergency occurred. There are two parts to this planning - your plan as a caregiver, and the future plan of the person receiving care.

Your plan should include
- A back-up plan (which identifies providers, tasks and key contacts if you were unable to provide care), and;
- Key legal documents (such as a will, power of attorney and advance care plan).

Take time to discuss the future with your care receiver and ensure that they have prepared a will, power of attorney and advance care plan that reflects their wishes.

Workbook

Keep learning
Become well informed about the health problems that your care receiver may have so you can better understand what to expect and anticipate changes. The more you know the more prepared that you will be to communicate with the health care team and support your family member. This knowledge can also help you plan for future financial needs, supportive equipment and home modifications.

Financial Programs and Services for Caregivers

Employment Insurance Compassionate Care Benefits
This program provides up to 26 weeks of Employment Insurance benefits to people who have to be away from work temporarily to provide care to a family member (or someone who considers you a family member such as a close friend or neighbor). The person receiving care must be seriously ill and have a high risk of death within 26 weeks (six months).

If you are unemployed or already receiving EI benefits, you can also apply for compassionate care benefits.

You can apply through Service Canada:

End of Life Care

Advance Care Plan
Advance care planning is a process to develop a plan that states your wishes about health care or treatment in case you are unable to make or communicate these decisions at a later time. You can state your wishes regarding end-of-life medical treatment as well as personal statements. An advance care plan allows you to name another person, as proxy, to make decisions for you if you are unable to make decisions or communicate them yourself. Health care providers must ask if you have an advance care plan and are required to follow your plan unless they consider it unethical or illegal. Your advance care is legal in other provinces. It is important to ensure that you have given copies of your plan to your doctor, clergy, closest relatives and friends and carry one if you are traveling. You cannot use an advance care plan to request assisted dying.

Obtaining a Death Certificate

When a person dies (at home or in hospital) a medical certificate of death must be completed by a medical practitioner or coroner.

After the medical certificate of death has been completed then a burial permit can be issued for release of the body. The burial permit is a legal document that is issued by funeral directors on PEI. The funeral director completes a death registration form and sends this document to Vital Statistics.

The death certificate is an official document that contains information taken from the death registration. This certificate can be obtained from Vital Statistics after the death registration form has been processed. A death certificate is required to file for death benefits, access the financial accounts of the deceased and insurance benefits.

Elder Abuse Awareness

Abuse and neglect are actions or inactions that cause harm to people. It can happen once, or over a longer period of time. There are several types of abuse, including:

- Financial Abuse is misuse of another person’s money, property or assets. This would include theft, forcing a person to change their will, misuse of Power of Attorney or fraud.
- Neglect is the failure to provide a safe, clean living environment, appropriate food, clothes, glasses and medications.
- Physical Abuse is the causing of physical pain, discomfort or injury by pushing, hitting or rough handling.
- Psychological or Emotional Abuse includes behavior that causes distress, feelings of humiliation, insults, threats, manipulation of information or situations.
- Self-Neglect is when the behavior of an adult threatens their own health or safety. Self-neglect does not include a situation in which a mentally competent adult, who understands the consequences of their decisions, makes a conscious decision to do things that threaten their health and safety.
- Sexual Abuse is sexual contact, verbal or suggestive behaviour of any kind that is unwelcome.

If you or a neighbour, friend or family member are experiencing abuse help is available.

Elder Mediation

Elder mediators are specially trained individuals that apply their knowledge on aging to the issues facing older people. Through a cooperative, neutral process trained elder mediators help people to develop mutually agreeable solutions to conflicts. In addition, mediators can help facilitate an alternate process to legal proceedings.

Emergency Preparedness

Preparing for an emergency is something that every Islander can do. The Office of Public Safety advises all residents to take three simple steps to become better prepared to face a range of emergencies and reduce the impact on yourself and your community.

1. Know the risks - although the results of disasters can be similar, knowing the risks specific to this region (such as what to do in the case of hurricanes, storm surge and power failure) can help you better prepare.
2. Make a plan - every Island household needs an emergency plan. It will help you and your family know what to do if disaster strikes.
3. Get an emergency kit - during an emergency you need some basic supplies and to be prepared to be self-sufficient for at least 72 hours. Be aware that if you live in a rural area you may need to prepare to be self-sufficient for a longer period of time.

MedicAlert® Safely Home®

The Alzheimer Society partners with the Canadian MedicAlert Foundation to offer MedicAlert® Safely Home®, a nationwide program designed to help identify the person with dementia who is lost and assist with a safe return home. Personal information and a hotline number are engraved on a MedicAlert bracelet that is worn full-time by the person with dementia. Should the individual ever go missing, police can quickly identify them by calling the MedicAlert 24-hour emergency hotline, whose emergency hotline specialists immediately contact caregivers to let them know the situation and location of their loved one.

Power of Attorney

A Power of Attorney is a legal document that gives permission to someone to look after your financial affairs if you cannot do this yourself or if you wish someone to do it for you. This document is usually written with the help of a lawyer and allows the person named to take care of your financial and legal business. A Power of Attorney does not give someone authority to make decisions about your health care.

You can appoint your spouse, partner, friend or family member. The person you choose must be 18 years or older, be mentally capable and someone who will accept the responsibility and understand what it means to have Power of Attorney.

The Community Legal Information (CLI) has a booklet that provides more information on power of attorney. Contact CLI for a copy of Putting Your Affairs in Order: Powers of Attorney or view this booklet online. CLI also offers a do-it-yourself Power of Attorney kit.

Health Coverage When Traveling

Coverage for Out of Province Medical Services (Within Canada)

Health PEI covers the cost of out of province in-patient and/or out-patient medical services outside the province in the instance of emergency or sudden illness. Except in the case of an extreme emergency or sudden illness written approval is required from Health PEI to obtain in-patient and/or out-patient services.

Residents can apply for prior approval to receive out of province medical services through their physician. Each approval is effective for a 12 month period, providing the referral is for the same diagnosis and the same physician.

Applications may be approved in the following circumstances:

- The insured medical and/or hospital service is not available within PEI.
- There is only one medical practitioner in the required specialty.
- Special circumstances exist that permit services to be provided in another province or territory.

Coverage for Out of Province Medical Services (Outside of Canada)

Payment may be provided by Health PEI for eligible residents of PEI to obtain in-patient and/or out-patient medical services outside Canada in the case of extreme emergency or sudden illness occurring while outside the country.

Residents visiting other countries are advised to obtain private medical insurance for the period they are absent from PEI.

If you are referred by a PEI physician to an out

When to use Emergency versus Non-Emergency Services

Emergency Room
The Queen Elizabeth Hospital has developed these guidelines to decide whether to go to an Emergency Room or to a walk-in clinic when you are not feeling well.

In most cases, your family doctor is the best person to see if you are not feeling well. After-hours service for medical problems that cannot wait until the next day, but are not life threatening, are provided by walk-in clinics and outpatient departments. Use the walk-in clinics for non-urgent care if your doctor is on holidays or if you do not have a family doctor.

Go to the nearest Emergency Department when you have:
• Discomfort or tightness in the chest;
• Unusual shortness of breath;
• Severe abdominal pain;
• Prolonged and persistent headache or dizziness;
• An injury that may require stitches or may involve a broken bone;
• Experienced a major crisis, and as a result, feel helpless, hopeless and have nowhere to turn.

When to call 911 versus 811
Call 811 in non-emergency situations, when you have health concerns or need health information.
Call 911 (for ambulance, fire or police) when you are in an Emergency situation:
• Immediate ambulance assistance is needed when medical attention or transport is required for victims of serious accidents or illness;
• Immediate fire assistance is needed when reporting a fire at home or any other location.

For non-emergency situations:
